

Stop the Spilling of Sacred Blood ... Stop the Violation of Sanctities

(Translated)

Until when will some factions remain lost from the way, misguided from the goal, walking blindly, and do not know the purpose of their existence, they do not know why they are fighting? Quickly they turn the gun from the chest of the enemy towards that of their Muslim brother!

Is it really true that some people are still unaware that any internal fighting (among Muslims) in Ash-Sham's revolution will not lead to victory, and only serves the criminal regime, and America behind it; which conspires against the revolution of Ash-Sham day and night?

Where does a Muslim who believes in 'La Ilaha Illa Allah' get the audacity from, to kill his brother who bears witness to the same Shahada, who fights for the same goal, and works with him in the same trench against the bitter enemy that plans for their demise? Is there a lack of wise men in the land of Ash-Sham to give the chance for the ignorant to ruin the land and spill the sacred blood?

O Mujahideen in all the warring factions in the land of Ash-Sham,

Know that you did not come out for fighting each other outrageously, nor to install a grim division, instead you came out to uphold the word of Allah. It does not become the highest with such deeds of yours, but rather it becomes the Supreme by unifying the ranks and overthrowing the regime, and ruling by the Shariah of Allah (swt), and know that you are the guards of Ash-Sham's revolution. If you forsake this guardianship and become distracted from your goal, and distanced from your people, then know for certain you are not worthy of this guardianship, and that in the land of Ash-Sham there are many people worthy of it. So stop the bloodshed, which the people of Ash-Sham never expected to see on your hands, and make way for the others.

O Muslims in Ash-Sham,

The role assigned to you is a great role, you are a safety valve that prevents any shedding of sacred blood in the land of Ash-Sham. Stand as a bulwark against all attempts of internal fighting, and know that silence in such stances is a crime against Ash-Sham's revolution, and that the word of truth is what will stop the tyrants. It is feared by the boys of politics, and creators of strife, so speak the truth and have tawwakul – trust on Allah (swt), the revolution is your revolution and the blood is your blood, do not allow anyone to tamper with it.

The solution to such incidents is prescribed in the Book of our Lord, it is not seen by all the divisive sinners, Allah (swt) made it obligatory to hold on to His rope and has forbidden division and conflict between Muslims, and prohibited the killing a Muslim without due right. Whoever ignores these texts or changes them, it is better for him not utter that which angers Allah, and must abandon the false speech, and remain in his home. Every problem has a solution from the revelation of Allah. Introducing dirty political money to those factions has hurt the revolution of Ash-Sham; it divided a Muslim and his brother, and has permitted the shedding of the sacred blood, and permitted compromising with the regime. We should fight the cause of the disease, and cut off relations with the Western countries. The Mujahideen should know that they are brothers, and that their unity is not a distant dream but a duty obliged by Allah, and without it the victory will not descend upon the Muslims.

The Prophet (saw) said:

«لا ترجعوا بعدي كفاراً يضرب بعضكم رقاب بعض»

“Do not go back as Kuffar after me, by striking each other's necks.”
