The Danish Government Wants to See More Palestinian Children Exterminated

After 15 months of genocide in Gaza, over 50,000 Palestinians have been murdered, including 18,000 children. Only now, with a ceasefire in place, has the challenging task of cleanup and accounting begun, which will reveal the true scale of destruction.

Meanwhile, the Danish government is working to amend the law to ensure that Denmark can continue exporting fighter jet parts to the genocidal Zionist occupation.

An assessment prepared by the Ministry of Defence, in collaboration with the Ministry of Justice and the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, concludes that there is "a legal basis to maintain the current practice" whereby F-35 spare parts can, without an export permit and "at the discretion of the United States," be sent from Skrydstrup Air Base in Southern Jutland "to another depot in an F-35 country with a prioritized need." [Danwatch and Information, January 19, 2025].

The export of Danish spare parts for F-35 fighter jets has already taken place during the genocide—directly violating both the law and Denmark's so-called "international obligations." However, it seems that for a government devoid of humanity and morality, there is no greater obligation than acting as a lapdog for the United States in its support of genocide and massacres.

A "prioritized need" for spare parts arises, it seems, when Zionists drop 85,000 tons of explosives from their fighter jets onto children and women in one of the world's most densely populated areas.

Instead of halting its practices, the government now seeks to amend the law to avoid future legal obstacles. This is happening despite international commissions having determined that "Israel" is committing war crimes and despite its leaders standing accused of genocide before the International Court of Justice (ICJ).

The Danish government claims to fight for human rights and international law—concepts that have definitively lost all meaning and value over the past 15 months—but is, in reality, deliberately working to ensure that Danish weapon components can continue to be used to murder Palestinian children.

The government has the shamelessness to pressure Muslims to abandon their Islamic values, which include justice and resistance to occupation, while simultaneously promoting genocide and state terrorism. When Muslims speak out for justice and the liberation of Palestine, they are criminalized and prosecuted, while the government actively supports an occupying power that systematically exterminates innocents, and now it seeks legal protection as an afterthought.

Once again, it is clear that Muslim lives hold no value in Western politics. The Western states, led by the United States and eagerly followed by Denmark, have failed both morally and humanly. Gaza's population, however, with their Islamic values of resilience, courage, and unwavering conviction, has shown the world a shining example and written a new chapter in history, which will not end until all of Palestine is liberated, and the Zionist occupation is eradicated.

Neither the United States nor spare parts from Skrydstrup can prevent this.
