As for the second speech it was by Usthaath Tha’er Salamah who clarified the role of the Islamic State’s leadership in the world that will not be possible except with a state similar to the one which was established by the Messenger of Allah (saw) when he migrated to Al-Madinah Al-Munawarah, and the presenter called for the importance of combining the dawah with invincible military support to reestablish the state...

The final speech was delivered by Ustaath Mohammed Nasser Shweikha titled “The State that must be Rebuilt”, through which he called for the establishment of a real state that its decisions and policies solely depend on the sovereignty of the Shariah and the authority of the Ummah, none but these two, calling for activating the Ummah’s true powers after they have marginalized and shattered its other powers, requesting from the strong invincible people to align with their Ummah’s issues and to support Islam and its dawah carriers instead of supporting the colonization and its ruling agents.
